

A wooden spoon is positioned horizontally, partially submerged in a mound of fine, orange-brown powder. The powder is piled up on a dark, textured wooden surface. The spoon's head is in the center of the powder pile, and its handle extends to the right. The lighting is warm, highlighting the texture of the powder and the wood.

Kitchen Story Code

---